

Thank you for your interest in IDEXX. Unfortunately, we have been made aware of unauthorized individuals using the IDEXX name and logos falsely claiming to recruit on our behalf. Fraudulent activities include but are not limited to fake interviews, filling out fabricated employment applications, and offers with the ultimate goal of getting access to your sensitive and personal information.

A few things to be aware of:

IDEXX does not use recruitment practices or placement agencies that charge candidates an advance fee of any kind.

Correspondence from IDEXX employees regarding interviews or offers will be sent from an email ending in @idexx.com. It is never sent from a Google, Yahoo, AOL, Hotmail, other internet hosted account, or a variation of the @idexx.com. All our emails and internet pages are hosted via IDEXX.com

All individuals who are successful in gaining an offer of employment from IDEXX, whether directly (from IDEXX) or indirectly (through our agency partners), are always required to go through a formal recruitment and interview process.

If you have doubts regarding the legitimacy of an email, letter, or website as it relates to IDEXX, please email your question and/or concerns to peopleservices@idexx.com.